Annual Report 2018

Chairman's Letter

Dear Customers and Friends:

This past year the Bank reported record net income of $82.9 million, reflecting earnings levels well above any year in our history. Growth in net interest revenue was the largest driver of our improved performance, and tax reform, with its lower tax rates, contributed to bottom-line results, as well. Improved net interest revenue was the result of continued organic loan and deposit growth amplified by a rising rate environment. The Fed raised rates four times in 2018, their most aggressive upward rate move in more than a decade. Tax reform's contribution to our strong earnings will make some year-over-year financial comparisons difficult, given the favorable impact of lower rates in 2018 and the adverse impact of the accounting treatment of lower tax rates on 2017 performance.

For 2018, earnings totaled $82.9 million, up $41.6 million, or 100.7 percent from 2017's results and $29.2 million greater than the Bank's previous record high earnings of $53.7 million reached way back in 2007. Much has changed over the past 10 years and our strong financial performance today has been accomplished while also maintaining a very solid balance sheet position. The Bank's improved core earning power was primarily the result of strong growth in average earning assets and widening margins, which drove net interest revenue to record levels. Average earning assets in 2018 totaled $6.3 billion, increasing $603.2 million, or 10.6 percent year-over-year. With rising rates and an asset sensitive balance sheet, net interest margin widened 11 basis points to 3.77 percent. The combination of strong growth in average earning assets and wider margins, propelled net interest revenue higher by $29.5 million, or 14.3 percent to $236.2 million, a new Company record.

The Company's excellent year is reflected in many of the key banking performance metrics common in the industry. Return on assets for the year came in at 1.30 percent and return on equity was 15.35 percent, both very strong numbers from a historical perspective. For 2018, expenses increased $11.8 million, or 7.0% to $178.7 million, still reasonable at 2.81 percent of average assets. The Company's efficiency ratio is a measure of the percentage of total revenue that is consumed by operating expenses. In 2018, our efficiency ratio improved 250 basis points to 62.4 percent, although still above where we'd like to see it long-term. Given our ongoing focus on investing in technology, facilities and our people, our efficiency ratio may remain higher than desired for some time.

Total assets for the year increased $309.1 million, or 5.0 percent, which was largely due to deposit growth. Deposits grew $197.2 million, or 3.6 percent, continuing a long trend of year- after-year growth in what are predominantly core customer deposits. Loan growth moderated in 2018, increasing $115.3 million, or 2.9 percent. The interesting dynamic impacting growth in the loan portfolio during the year was significantly higher levels of pay-downs on commercial lines of credit, rather than lower loan demand. Our loan originations actually were higher by almost $90 million in 2018, than in 2017. With deposit growth exceeding loan growth, on-balance sheet liquidity grew. Investment securities increased $202.1 million to nearly $1.6 billion. When our investment portfolio is combined with investible cash, liquid resources were at historical highs totaling over $2.3 billion, or nearly 36 percent of total assets.

Shareholder's equity increased significantly in 2018 benefiting from strong earnings. For the year, shareholder's equity grew $67.3 million, or 13.0 percent to $584.5 million.

Our risk metrics continued to come in at moderate levels and our capacity to withstand unexpected conditions remained significant. Credit quality was strong with noncurrent loans at just 0.18 percent of assets. While credit performance was excellent, it also tends to be a lagging indicator of difficulties in the economy and so we remain cautious given how late we seem to be in the economic cycle. The Bank's allowance to loans was substantial at year end, closing the year at $90.7 million, or 2.24 percent of loans. Liquidity resources continued at substantial levels, with the Company's liquidity ratio, comprised of unpledged cash and bonds as a percent of liabilities, closing the year at 33.8 percent. The Company's key capital ratios are significant and increasing as a result of strong retained earnings growth in excess of asset growth. At the end of 2018, shareholder's equity as a percent of assets was 8.93 percent, which was above end of year 2017 levels by 63 basis points.

We are gratified by our performance and the ability to deliver these results while still maintaining substantial balance sheet strength, but these are interesting times with significant levels of uncertainty. We are late in the economic cycle and the Fed has raised short-term rates to levels where the yield curve is flat and even inverted across some segments, which historically has been an early warning sign that trouble may be looming. The nation's politics are unusually contentious and the potential for a policy mistake by our local and national leaders seems higher than usual. The government's resources to address a downturn also seem stretched, with large budget deficits, rising national debt and the Fed's balance sheet still over- sized with bonds purchased back in the days of quantitative easing.

Against this back-drop, technological innovation continues to transform our business, which is both challenging and exciting. Along the way we are transforming how, when and where we serve our customers, while at the same time, we are also transforming how we operate. The investments we are making in technology are a competitive necessity and that challenges us to improve our internal processes and find opportunities for greater efficiency in our operations. These are crucial and healthy objectives for the Company and our customers.

While cautious by nature, we remain optimistic about our positioning, the markets we serve and the many amazing things our clients are doing and accomplishing, with our help, as their financial partner. Our relationship based business model allows us the privilege of a little more insight into the difference we can make in each of our client's lives as they pursue their goals. Making a difference is why we do what we do. If we can help you in anyway, please reach out to us.

Warm Regards,

Peter F. Stanton
